

Order take-out from your favorite restaurant and enjoy eating at the Patio.

The Patio is Columbia City's brand-new outdoor neighborhood dining room. You'll find it on South Ferdinand Street under the large maple trees and in the adjoining brick-lined alley behind Geraldine's Counter.

The Patio will be open for you to enjoy the fresh air from late morning to about 9:00 PM. Don't be surprised if you see a food truck or gelato stand nearby.

We're counting on everyone to follow Covid guidance and pitch in to keep the area welcoming.

Columbia City restaurants: encourage your take-out customers to eat at the Patio.

Retail shops: let us know if you'd like to do a Patio pop-up by emailing us at info@columbiacityseattle.com

The Patio Alley off Ferdinand

Take-out and Dine-out

Thank You!

This was a tremendous community effort spearheaded by Rob Mohn, Adam Rose and Kate Bond of the CCBA, Gary Snyder (Geraldine's), Emily Eberhart (Alehouse), Chad Wilson (Tutta Bella), Sam Allard (Rookies and Backyard), Beau Hebert (Lotties), Karla Esquivel (Andaluz), Dorothy Mitchell and Tom Reid (property owners), Ben Han (Seattle DOT), Dave Egan (Vino Verite), and Sarah Valenta (Homesight).

Hope to see you at the Patio.
